Women's Emergency House closed

As of Thursday April 30, the door was locked and no one was home at Women's Emergency House.

The SIRCH (Supportive Initiatives for Residents in the County of Haliburton) Board of Directors made the decision to close WEH at a meeting held Monday (April 27). It was determined that SIRCH could no longer afford to run the shelter for abused women and their children.

SIRCH Executive Director Gena Robertson said that the decision to close the house after three years of operation was a difficult one. "It was hard," said Robertson. "We've struggled with this. We are proud of the support we have given to women and children in the last three years."

SIRCH began an extensive fund-raising campaign several weeks ago, in an effort to find $100,000, to keep the facility operational until December of 1998. The initiative raised $24,450 by the end of March as well as approximately $9,000 after April 1. SIRCH also received $12,000 in pledges and staged the Blues and Boogie Benefit and Food for Thought fund-raisers over the weekend.

In the end it wasn't enough. All of the funds already raised will be held in trust for a later date, when it is hoped that another community organization can support the operation of Women's Emergency House. "The downside of this is that we realized that our organization doesn't have the staff or the resources to run the house. We are looking for other sponsors who feel they can," said Robertson.

In its three years of operation, Women's Emergency House has been accessed for over 800 bednights. It was originally built as a community project; built and run by volunteers, with the help of two full time employees.

Sheila Whiting, the coordinator of WEH, was saddened by the decision to close the facility, and is concerned about the prospects for women who are abused in Haliburton County. "The nearest shelters are in Peterborough, Lindsay, Orillia and Bracebridge. That is at least an hour's drive," said Whiting. "This is a really sad thing. I just hope the public doesn't let this go."

In an effort to re-open the house, a public meeting will be held at the Haliburton United Church on May 25 at 7 p.m. to discuss the various options available to open Women's Emergency House. Whiting also points out that the YWCA Women's Safety Network is still available for women in emergency situations (1-800-461-7646).

Despite the bleak outlook for Women's Emergency House, Whiting is optimistic about the future. "The calls are starting already. I believe in my heart that it is going to stay," said Whiting.

Until the May meeting, the doors remain locked. The furnishings will be left in the house until June, when a decision will be made as to what should be done with the furniture, food and articles of clothing.

High profile Reform MP visits Victoria-Haliburton

by Jerry Grozelle

"It's important for us to talk to people in different ridings and communities," Deborah Grey told an audience of about 50 people at a breakfast meeting at Wigamog Inn April 30.

The Reform Party MP from Edmonton North is also Deputy Parliamentary Leader and Caucus Chairperson. She was in the Victoria/Haliburton riding for several engagements, beginning with the breakfast meeting at Wigamog. She also visited the Women's Emergency House in Haliburton on its last day of operation and stopped for a tour of the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association Fish Hatchery before going to Fenelon Falls and on to Lindsay for several appointments.

Grey briefly outlined her background, after breakfast on Thursday and explained how she became involved in politics. She said she had picked up a copy of the Reform Platform. She was at the airport in Edmonton, platform in hand for reading on her flight, when she was approached by a Reform Party official. That chance encounter, along with encouragement from family and friends, prompted her to run as a candidate for the Reform Party in the 1988 election. She finished fourth in that race and when she went back to her teaching job in Dewberry, Alberta, she recalls one of her students pointing out, "you got smoked."

A by-election in March of 1989 saw Grey back in the campaign mode. This time she was elected. She became the first Reform representative (from Beaver River, Alberta) to win a seat in Parliament. She was re-elected as the Beaver River MP in the 1993 federal

The gift of life

18 year HHSS student Janine Kelly said that she felt fine after giving blood at the clinic on Tuesday. A busload of high school students went to the clinic to donate blood.

Blood donor clinic beats target

by Elizabeth Dunkley

Every 20 seconds in Canada someone, somewhere needs blood.

Thanks to the goodwill of 227 area residents who attended the blood donor clinic last week, that need will continue to be met. The Canadian Red Cross collected 195 units of blood from those who attended, five more than the target of 190.

"One donation can help as many as four people," said Mary-Lynn Koekkoek, donor service representative from The Canadian Red Cross Society. "It is important that people donate blood because you never know when you or someone in your family is going to need it."

The Toronto Blood Centre provides blood and blood products to 61 hospitals from Oakville in the west to Napanee in the east and Huntsville in the north. Regular clinics, like the one in Haliburton, as well as special clinics, are held to ensure that the supply does not dwindle too low. Three clinics are scheduled this year in Haliburton, all at the Legion Hall.

The amount of blood removed from a donor is 450 ml, less than half a litre, or one-tenth of the average body's supply of blood

Blood is a combination of plasma, red cells, white cells, and platelets. When being processed, the plasma is separated from the cells. Platelets have a shelf life of five days, whereas red cells can be kept for 35 days. Plasma, which makes up 55 percent of the blood can be frozen for up to a year. Each component of blood could be given to different people, helping up to four people with their medical needs.

There are four different blood types: O, A, B and AB. Type O is the most common. An average 100 donation will include only three type AB, nine type B, 42 type A and 46 type O.

"We want people to make blood donations a part of their life," said Koekkoek. "Sixty per cent of people will need blood in their lifetime and only four per cent give blood."

A person who becomes a regular donor must wait at least 56 days before giving blood again. This means that a person can give blood six times a year. Within 24 hours, the body replaces the plasma and within four weeks the red cells are replaced.

The conductor is Lorelyn Morgan with accompanist Lauren McInnes.

BIA survives, new chair appointed

The Minden BIA (Business Improvement Area) was given a last minute reprieve at the organization's regular meeting last week, despite low attendance. A resolution was endorsed calling for the association to continue. As well, a new chair was elected.

The issue of the importance of the BIA was brought to the table immediately by Chair Jack Brezina. The Business Improvement Association has long suffered from poor attendance and has had difficulty attracting a quorum. At this meeting, there were only four businesses represented. "Would you like to see it continue or is this the end of the road?" asked Brezina.

Deputy Reeve Jerry Rome asked Brezina to give an overview of the programs and initiatives the BIA has organized in its history. Since the 1980's the BIA has been responsible for projects such as the interlocking paving stones on Main Street sidewalks, new light standards, Christmas decorations and several promotions such as Moonlight Madness and support for the summer Sidewalk Sale. The BIA also supports such community events and organizations as the Sled Dog Derby, Timbersport, the Santa Claus Parade and the efforts of the Minden Horticultural Society.

Dave Willis, owner of the Rockcliffe Tavern, stated that he hoped the BIA would stay alive. "I would like to see the BIA continue," said Willis. "But to promote new events, we need to get the town rolling again."

Reeve Jean Anthon said that she felt that without the BIA, there may no longer be a "central voice" for businesses in the BIA area. CIBC Manager Graham Knight noted that out of the 60 member businesses, only four were represented at the meeting. In response, Anthon stated that attendance is a problem in many Business Improvement Associations across the province.

After some discussion, the members present voted to keep the Business Improvement Association up and running.

Reeve Anthon thanked Jack Brezina for his work on the Association. "It (the BIA) has only been kept alive because of Jack Brezina. We thank you," said Anthon.

After the resolution had been passed the meeting moved onto regular business. The association endorsed a resolution to donate $500 to the Minden Horticultural Society to purchase planters that will be attached to the lamp posts in the downtown area.

At this point Dave Willis stepped forwards and said that he was interested in serving as chair of the organization. The association passed a resolution appointing Willis to the post.

The next meeting will be held at the AH&M municipal office on Tuesday, May 12 at 8:00 a.m., at which time the 1998 budget will be struck.

Residents up in arms over quarry proposal

Residents of Kirkfield and Victoria Road are afraid that their community is going to the pits. They are concerned about a proposed limestone quarry that is scheduled to be built at the northeast corner of County road 35 and Highway 48. Members of the community were on hand at a special meeting of the Ontario Municipal Board, convened two weeks ago in Coboconk to hear arguments from both sides of the issue.

Victoria Road resident Jill Dezsényi is worried that a quarry might affect the quiet lifestyle of the area. As a member of the North Victoria Ratepayers Association, she is concerned about the large trucks, noise and dust that accompany a quarry of this magnitude. "We all live here and there are a lot of children in the area. A lot of children. I am trying to build a business here and this is really going to put a damper on our work," said Dezsényi.

The quarry is being built by Fenelon Falls Lawyer James Webster. His family has owned the 470 acres of land since 1959. Currently the property is licensed for a gravel pit and has been since 1983. "When you are involved with a quarry you are looking at drilling and blasting," said Webster. Webster has been working on building the quarry since the late 1980's.

According to Webster, the plans and information have been available to the public for several years. When the Victoria County Official Plan was created in 1978, up to 90 per cent of the subject property was zoned for pits and quarries. "You know, when you start a proposal such as this, there will always be people who don't want this, and that is understandable. But the studies have been available for a number of years," said Webster.

The Township of Bexley approved the quarry plans, despite public dissent, according to Jill Dezsényi. "Bexley just let it go through with a full hall of people who don't want this," she said. "Half of the people here know nothing about it. We will continue fighting this as best we can."

The quarry plan is currently in limbo, as the issue has been taken up by the Ontario Municipal Board. A preliminary hearing was held in Bexley last Thursday, but nothing was resolved. The ratepayers, along with the Victoria Road Community Association, also organized a public protest in front of the hearing. The OMB will hold the official hearing on October 26.

Sharing the gift of life

"People need blood for a variety of reasons," said Koekkoek. Some people need blood every day to survive. Often cancer patients need blood because of the treatment they undergo. New mothers, trauma victims and transplant patients also often need blood. When there isn't enough blood, surgery may have to be postponed because the blood obviously goes to the most needy.

"I think it's amazing that I could actually be saving someone's life," said Erin Turner, 17 year old HHSS student and blood donor.

The blood supply in Canada meets high safety standards because the donors are in good health and their blood is screened for diseases such as HIV and hepatitis B and C. The Canadian Red Cross Society assures that the collecting, processing and distributing of the blood is done safely.

Many people don't understand the need for blood in Canada, are skeptical of donating or are frightened by the process. A donor can't get AIDS or any other disease by giving blood. All that they will get is the satisfaction that they are helping people.

"Share the gift of life," said Koekkoek, "and donate blood."

Anyone can donate blood. The restrictions are few:

- between the ages of 17 and 70 (60 if they have never donated before),
- weigh over 110 pounds,
- in good health and feeling good on the day they donate.

The next clinics in Haliburton are scheduled for Tuesday, July 28 and Tuesday, September 29.

Doreen Nelson (left), and Jill Dezsényi protest the creation of a quarry at the northeast corner of County Road 35 and Highway 48. Concerned citizens demonstrated in Coboconk last month prior to a preliminary OMB hearing.

Junior Kindergarten approved

The school yard may be a bit busier next fall as the Trillium Lakelands District School Board has made the decision to implement a board-wide Junior Kindergarten program for the fall of 1998. The school board voted to implement the program at their regular meeting in Lindsay last week.

Superintendent Dale Robinson released his report on Junior Kindergarten with an attached recommendation to, "Provide Junior Kindergarten across The Trillium Lakelands District School Board effective September, 1998."

Currently, the Junior Kindergarten program is available only in the Muskoka District of the board. Victoria County established a JK program in 1986 and Haliburton County in 1994, but both programs were cancelled in 1996 due to a reduction in provincial grants to the respective school boards.

Victoria Trustee Judy Saunders moved the resolution. Muskoka Trustee

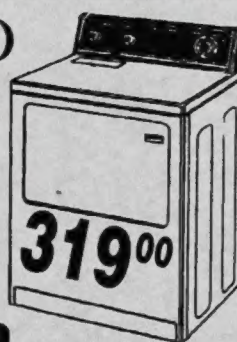

Doris Monahan echoed Saunders positive feelings towards the program, as well as the work of Superintendent Robinson. "I'd like to thank you for this program on behalf of all of the four year-olds and teachers and parents," said Monahan. "I also believe that it will help us find students at risk at an earlier age."

According to Robinson, it was determined that the school board would be able to cover the cost of implementing a Junior Kindergarten Program, under the Ministry of Education's new funding formula. The figures assumed an estimated enrolment of 608 full time students across the board, with 19 classrooms. The Foundation grant including funding for administrative costs, staffing, school renewal, operations and recognition of special education needs is $2,886,704. Expenditures for the program are estimated at $2,886,600.

No merger for Reform--they just want PC voters: Grey election and in last year's election, she ran in the Edmonton North riding, earning her third term of office. In 1993 she was elected Caucus Chairperson and she was appointed Deputy Parliamentary Leader in 1995. Grey says she was never interested in any party that advocated separatism. "I'm a proud and passionate Canadian," she said.

Among Grey's concerns is the deficit. "The federal debt is $585-billion," she stated. "The biggest single expense is the $40-billion the government spends to pay the interest on that debt."

Grey pointed out that when the Tories left office in 1993, they were spending $42-billion more than they were taking in.

"Every responsible citizen knows taxes have to be paid," Grey said, adding that it is essential to make sure those tax dollars are spent responsibly.

On the subject of unity, Grey noted that special status doesn't work in a family situation, in business or in any other circumstances.

"Special privileges cause division," she said.

The Reform solution is to give the provinces the power to establish their own preferences and protect their own heritage. The old line politicians in Ottawa, she says, hate to relinquish any power.

Grey called the Senate, as it exists, "pitiful", adding that it should be elected.

With regard to the possibility of Reform uniting with the Conservatives, Grey said, "they are $10-billion in debt -- give me one reason why we should merge."

She said that Jean Charest stopped her in the halls of Parliament before he left his position as leader of the Federal Progressive Party to lead the Provincial Liberals in Quebec and suggested that Reform was trying to unite the two parties.

"I don't think we need a merger," she told him. "We just want your voters."

Grey commended Victoria-Haliburton Reform candidate Pat Dunn, who accompanied her on the tour of the riding. She pointed out that he was just a few percentage points behind Liberal John O'Reilly when the votes were tallied.

"John O'Reilly should be worried," she said.

During a short question period, Hugh Allore said he thought the issue of job creation should have been emphasized more during the last election campaign.

"People need to be assured that there are going to be jobs," he said.

Grey pointed out that jobs were a big part of the Reform platform but she suggested that it may have been better communicated.

"High taxes kill jobs," she stated. She added that if small businesses had less taxes to pay, they would be able to hire additional employees.

From Wigamog, Grey went to Haliburton for a tour of the Women's Emergency House, which was open for its last day. A lack of financial support forced the facility to close.

SIRCH Executive Director Gena Robertson said that both Grey and Dunn "thought it is a shame" that the facility is being forced to close.

On the way to Fenelon Falls, Grey paid a visit to the HHOA Fish Hatchery, where she spoke with volunteers and MNR biologist David Flowers about the project. They were in the process of preparing 2,800 lake trout to be transported to Loon Lake for stocking.

Grey's itinerary for the day also included several stops in Lindsay.

HATCHERY VISITORS: Reformers Deborah Grey and Pat Dunn (centre) stopped for a tour of the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association Fish Hatchery Thursday. MNR Fisheries Biologist David Flowers explains the hatchery operations.

April was a pleasant spring month, more than normal sunshine. There were only two periods of rain, April 1 and 2 and April 16. On April 16 it rained for only one day, but the downpour was heavy and causing considerable flooding and damage. The average temperature for the month was higher than last April, but there were many mornings with frost so not much gardening being done so far. A few black fly scouts have been around already.

A symbol lost

The closure of the Women's Emergency House in Haliburton is a tragic loss for the community. Not only was the home a safe haven for women and children caught in threatening situations, it served as a symbol of what the community, working together, can accomplish. The construction of the home was truly a community effort with thousands of volunteer hours provided by willing individuals who shared a vision. However, the home was more than a structure. Its presence represented an unequivocal statement that the community cared about its most vulnerable citizens.

There are likely many reasons why the latest plea for support went unmet. However, rather than dwell on the past, the community must look to the future and determine how this valuable service and symbol can be sustained. Perhaps there is some group or groups who are willing to take on the home as their major fund-raiser. Perhaps there are other means of providing funding for this facility, or maybe there is another approach which can be taken to ensure the services provided by the Women's Emergency House do not disappear from our community. The organizers have called a meeting for May 25 to chart the home's future. Hopefully the interest and enthusiasm that was rallied to build it can be mustered once again and the community will not allow this beacon to die.

Looking for a consensus

Editor:

I was distressed to read the reports of the discussions around the Lands for Life Round Table that occurred at the recent Outdoors Association meeting. People who encourage intolerant attitudes towards their neighbours are not contributing to solutions and healthy communities.

I have studied the scenario proposed by the coalition of environmentalists that has been the subject of so much panic. I think the panic is unwarranted.

A relevant detail that has not been included in the reporting to date is this: most of the lands that the coalition has identified for protection would be open for "non-consumptive uses", meaning hunting, fishing, snowmobiling, hiking, camping. They would be closed to "consumptive uses", meaning logging, mining and commercial development.

Only some of the areas identified for protection would be closed to some non-consumptive uses (hunting, motorized vehicles, camping, road construction). No area would be closed to sport fishing. Unfortunately, these sub-categories of protection are not illustrated on the map. One has to look at the accompanying table of permitted uses.

It is not helpful to suggest that environmentalists are a homogeneous group or that they are all insensitive to the reality that the natural environment is the source of income for some of us, as well as the source of oxygen, food, recreation and spiritual inspiration.

Just as not all loggers clear-cut, just as not all anglers want to catch the last fish, so not all environmentalists think that natural environments are just for looking at. I think it would be more helpful if we focus on what the various groups have in common.

Surely anglers, hunters, snowmobilers, loggers, cottagers, resort operators - all want a healthy natural environment, although perhaps for different reasons. If forests are harvested incompetently, streams will be silted up and the fishing will suffer. If deer yards are disrupted, hunting will suffer. If snowmobile trails run through acres of tree stumps, snowmobilers will go elsewhere. If a piece of land is clear-cut, there will be no jobs logging it again for a long time (especially if the soil washes away).

What we need are consensus-builders. Where are they?

Spring's harvest

Editor:

It's fairly safe to say that spring is actually here. Flowers are blooming, the song birds have returned and the garbage that has accumulated under the snow over the winter, is now visible. I don't understand why people can't be responsible for their own garbage? It's really not difficult to keep your garbage in your car or on your person until you can dispose of it responsibly.

Garbage at our roadsides and in the bush is offensive to some of us that call this place home. Furthermore, things like plastic rings that hold six packs of pop and beer together, tin cans and glass can be hazardous to animals and people.

I went for a walk along the Highway 118, west of Carnarvon. As I looked around, I found all kinds of trash, including a gas barbecue! On another day, I pulled into my driveway to find three Styrofoam coffee cups and three glass juice bottles. The bottles were lying in such a way that a simple toss out of the car window could not have arranged. Someone actually pulled over and left their garbage on my driveway!

There are township landfill sites and curb side pick up, blue boxes and recycling bins at the dump and you can compost in your own backyard.

Why would anyone want to soil the home that they live in? Be responsible and respectful. Don't leave it in the bush, take it with you.

Kate Hall,
Minden.

Spring cleaning

Editor:

Once the snow melted in Haliburton County it was noticeable how much garbage had been littered along the highways during the winter by the people living here and travelling to our area.

We would like to thank the caring folk who, in the last week, picked up most of the garbage along our roadways, especially Highway 35, and returned this county to the way it should be....litter free.

We carry a fairly large pail in our car for garbage and it has to be emptied each week at the dump. It is an easy solution--just think--it's easier to throw your junk into a pail in the back of the car than it is to take the time to roll down the window and throw out the coffee cup or pop can.

Bill Scott Parliamentary tribute

John O'Reilly, Member of Parliament for Victoria/Haliburton, paid tribute to the late, William C. Bill Scott last week in the House of Commons as MPs from all parties added tributes to the former Member.

"Mr. Speaker, it is with deep regret that I rise today to remember the late William C. Bill Scott, a dedicated constituency politician from my riding of Victoria/Haliburton.

I had the privilege to serve as Member of Parliament after Bill Scott retired before the 1993 federal election. Mr. Scott was a kind man who placed an emphasis on his duty to constituents. He was very approachable and his good will attracted people to him.

Before entering federal politics, Bill Scott played important roles as Director of Agricultural Societies of Ontario; Past-President of the Lions Club; hockey referee with the Ontario Hockey Association and the Ontario Minor Hockey Association and he was an Associate-Member of the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 441, Kinmount. He started his political journey as Reeve of the Township of Snowdon.

Bill Scott won the Progressive Conservative riding nomination over seven other candidates in 1965. He was never challenged for the nomination after that. Bill Scott was first elected a Member of Parliament in 1965. He served an astonishing eight terms representing Victoria/Haliburton.

Bill Scott was born and raised in Kinmount a small friendly community in the riding. He always remembered where he was from first and foremost. Bill Scott dedicated his spare time to the Kinmount Fall Fair. This fair is one of the most successful rural fairs in Ontario. His involvement began as a youngster, which led to being the President of the Kinmount Fall Fair Board. His involvement in this fair was very important to the community and to all those who attended the fair year after year. Bill Scott had an active beef farm, which enabled him to be very aware that agriculture was an important industry in the riding. He was a strong supporter of volunteers. Whenever he had the opportunity to praise volunteers and the work they did, he took full advantage to do so.

In Ottawa, Bill Scott served many years as a Member of Parliament. On July 1st, 1992 he was elevated to the Queen's Privy Council. Bill Scott also served as Assistant Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons in 1979 and was appointed Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Veteran's Affairs in 1989. Bill Scott used both Ottawa and his riding to effectively serve for 27 years as a politician.

I will always admire William C. Bill Scott for what he did for Victoria/Haliburton. Bill's family gave this country a hard working politician committed to improving his hometown, his riding and his country. My sincere condolences go to Bill's wife Betty, daughter Laurie, son Guy and all of his family in this difficult time. We thank you Bill for a job well done.

As emotional as giving birth

The Northern Lights have seen queer sights

But the queerest they ever did see...

....Was a bald, bearded guy in a borrowed parka, shivering and squinting up at the night sky from the shore of a wilderness lake outside Yellowknife, surrounded by two hundred and fifty Japanese tourists.

Well, I don't know if the Northern Lights found it queer, but I certainly did. I was the bald, bearded guy, in case you haven't guessed. As for the Japanese. Ah. Therein lies a story.

A love story, as a matter of fact. They don't talk about it much, reserved and polite folks that they are, but the fact is, the Japanese are crazy about Canada. Specifically, they love three things about us. They love Anne of Green Gables in Prince Edward Island. They love the wilderness majesty of Banff National Park.

And they absolutely adore Aurora Borealis. The Northern Lights — that spectacular ballet of electrons and radioactive dust particles that each winter, makes Canada's northern night sky the stage for the Greatest Show on Earth.

Everybody who sees the shimmer and dance of the Northern Lights comes away impressed, but the Japanese? They are absolutely nuts about them.

They have to be. First, they spend thousands of dollars to fly from Japan to Canada; then they spend more thousands to fly all the way from Vancouver up to the shores of Great Slave Lake in the Arctic. Once they get to Yellowknife (the usual stay is three days), they lay out another whack of yen to sign up for a special 'Northern Lights Tour' which buses them, along with guides and interpreters, 'way out past the Yellowstone city lights to a remote camp where they wait — sometimes all night — for the Aurora Borealis to do its stuff.

Which it well may not do. If it's cloudy (which it seldom is around Yellowknife) nobody gets to see much. Same thing if it snows. And sometimes capricious, moody old Aurora Borealis just simply doesn't show up at all, for reasons unknown. This is not a Walt Disney production. The Northern Lights wax and wane according to their own unwritten schedule.

But show or no show, the Japanese never complain. Indeed, these people are in many ways dream visitors for any tourist destination. The Japanese that visit Yellowknife, chasing the Northern Lights are invariably polite, orderly, respectful, neat. Not to mention rich.

Indeed they are so well-behaved it can be unnerving. Shirley Saint, an interpreter and guide for Raven Tours of Yellowknife, says that the atmosphere of a busload of Japanese tourists travelling out to the viewing area is almost always eerily quiet ("You'd think that they were all asleep") — until some passenger spots the first hint of the Northern Lights out the window.

"The first time it happened, I thought someone had had a heart attack" she recalls. "The whole bus erupted with shouts and screams and oohs and aaahs of pure joy. We had to stop the bus and let everybody off right there."

Indeed, for the Japanese, seeing the Northern Lights is an extremely moving experience. Shirley recalls one regal-looking 80-year old woman who wept openly on seeing the Northern Lights for her first — and probably last — time. Another Japanese mother said that for her, seeing the Northern Lights was as emotional an experience as giving birth.

It's a pretty big deal for the economy of Yellowknife too. This city of 18,000 used to pretty much close down for the winter as far as tourism was concerned. Not any more. Last year, more than 1,500 Japanese tourists flew in to Yellowknife. This past winter, the numbers were even higher.

Gotta seem weird though, to, say a Great Snowy Owl gliding across the night sky. He glances down expecting to see wilderness. Instead he sees a couple of hundred Asiatic faces in designer parkas, tripod-mounted cameras beside them, looking up expectantly at the sky in the middle of an Arctic night.

What was it Robert Service said a century ago?

There are strange things done 'neath the midnight sun...

Mister Service was more observant than he knew.

Class offers some names for the new hiking trail

The following is an open letter to the members of Anson, Hindon and Minden Council:

Today our class went on the trail near the Library/Cultural Centre. We enjoyed it because it brought nature close to us and we are studying a unit on interdependencies.

It was enjoyable to walk on the wood chips which allowed us to walk through the wetland. Mr. Ivan Ingram told us these chips were put there by volunteers. Please thank all of these volunteers for contributing their time. Thank you for the bridges which make it possible to avoid jumping over the wet places. The new hand railings will be helpful to senior citizens and the large rocks at the entrance are impressive

If you are looking for names for the trail, we suggest these as possibilities: Woodchip Trail; Millennium Trail; Fiddlehead Trail; Red Creek Trail; Tomato Creek Trail; Cattail Trail; Tag Alder Trail; Mini March Trail.

Students of Mrs. Davis 4B Class, Archie Stouffer Elementary School.

Mhairi Treharne's eyes may have been bigger than her stomach as she and her Grade Three classmates at Archie Stouffer Elementary School enjoyed a free fish and chip lunch, courtesy of Gramma's Fish and Chips. The class had been studying the ocean and it's inhabitants and thought a fish and chip lunch would be a delicious conclusion to the unit.

HHOA/MNR partnership a model for other groups

by Jerry Grozelle

The benefits of the work being done by the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association are being seen all over central Ontario. That was one of the messages HHOA President Pat Kennedy proudly proclaimed at the Association's annual Spring Meeting at the West Guilford Community Centre on April 26. He added that the partnership between the HHOA, the Ministry of Natural Resources, the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters and other groups interested in conservation of the province's natural resources, while enhancing hunting and fishing opportunities, is being showcased as a model to which others may aspire.

Hatchery project

The idea (just a couple of years ago) to do something to improve the trout fishing in Haliburton County has evolved into a full function fish hatchery, operated by HHOA member volunteers. The hatchery, on Haliburton County Road 1, just south of the Village of Haliburton, is operated under the guidance of MNR personnel. Support for the project comes from several sources, including the Haliburton County Development Corporation, the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters, The Ministry of Natural Resources, Human Resources Canada, the Canadian Sportfishing Foundation, Sir Sandford Fleming College and numerous Haliburton County businesses and interested organizations.

Fund-raising projects of the HHOA, including the annual Wild Game Dinner, 50/50 draws and others, also contribute to the hatchery cause.

HHOA officials are studying the possibility of developing a second hatchery facility in the county, near West Guilford.

The first lake trout raised at the HHOA hatchery were recently stocked in Loon Lake. Of the 2,800 fish moved from the hatchery to Loon Lake, there were only six casualties.

The rest of the lake trout and rainbow trout will be stocked within the next couple of weeks. Some of the rainbow trout are destined for homes outside Haliburton County borders. Some of the fish will be going as far as South River, which is between Huntsville and PROGRESS UPDATE: Larry Hewitt, Vice-President of the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association and Chair of the Hatchery Committee talked about progress at the HHOA Fish Hatchery. He also offered some insight regarding the Lands for Life process.

North Bay.

Kennedy pointed out that the 50-plus volunteers who feed and care for the fish are the reason behind the hatchery's success. Volunteers were trained through a program at Sir Sandford Fleming College and they had some valuable practical experience last October when they went to Manitoulin Island to help with the MNR's lake trout egg collection.

The hatchery project is chaired by Larry Hewitt. Although he refuses to take the credit, his determination and enthusiasm have been instrumental in bringing the project from the idea stage to a productive hatchery.

Fund-raisers

Kennedy praised the Association's Fund-Raising committee, headed by Bruce Sawyer. The biggest money maker for the HHOA is the annual Wild Game Dinner, which includes a dance, silent auction and raffles.

After attending the Haliburton-

Minden Ducks Unlimited Dinner and Auction last fall, Kennedy and a few other HHOA members came away with some ideas for the HHOA event. By adding a raffle, the Outdoors Association increased its revenue.

Jerry Walker, chairman of the Ducks Unlimited Committee and a member of the HHOA, and Roy Boughner, chairman of the HHOA Membership Committee, collaborated on the organization of the raffle and silent auction.

The 1998 Wild Game Dinner was the most successful to date, raising nearly $9,000.

Sponsorship

Kennedy spoke briefly about the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School's Project ELM, a program which is sponsored, in part, by the HHOA.

The acronym ELM represents key themes in environmental education -- energy flows, plant and animal lifestyles and matter interactions. This program, started in the spring of 1993.

This unique program takes students from the confines of the classroom and places them in a forest environment that has been transformed into an outdoor theatre, complete with plenty of adventurous twists.

The High School students are the instructors/actors and elementary school children from Haliburton County experience nature's interaction in the field.

The HHOA also provides funding for youngsters to attend the youth camp at Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Reserve. The Association sets aside $500 annually to help subsidize the cost of attending the camp.

Walleye Watch

HHOA volunteers, in co-operation with the MNR and several students from Dave Mowat's environmental studies class at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, participated in a

Just a couple of weeks ago I had the pleasure of a couple of days of great golf at Windsor's Essex Golf and Country Club. Essex played host to the 1976 Canadian Open and it was there that a young Jerry Pate, fresh from a US Open victory, shot a final round 63 to win the tournament.

This summer the LPGA visits Essex for the very prestigious du Maurier Classic. The top women professionals from around the world will attend the event, one of the four 'majors' on the ladies' tour.

During my visit I found the course to be in excellent condition, particularly the greens. Essex was one of the first courses in Canada to ban metal spikes and require all golf shoes be fitted with soft spikes.

What a difference.

Not a spike mark or any kind of blemish or scrape on the putting surfaces or the tees for that matter. And the walk around the course was far more enjoyable.

The soft spike or spikeless shoe is more comfortable than conventional golf shoes, and a good deal quieter as well. Gone was the noise the metal spike causes on cart paths and sidewalks around the clubhouse and tees. Also with the spikeless shoe, you can walk just about anywhere in the clubhouse and its certainly friendly to carpeting and tile floors.

The first to make the move to soft spikes in our area is PineStone Resort. the course opened its season last Friday (April 24) and for those golfers unaware of the change, a conversion table has been set up in the pro shop to remove the old metal spike and install the new soft spike.

The procedure only takes a few minutes but it is recommended you arrive at the course a little earlier should you require the change-over. If your existing shoes have pretty well had it, PineStone offers a good selection of soft spike shoes at a reasonable price. One of the largest golf retailers in our area is Nevada Bob's in Barrie. They carry all the major brands in golf shoes and most of their sales are soft spikes. In fact, the outlet's 1998 shoe order consisted only of soft spikes and a metal spike shoe is now a special order.

the golf page is always looking for good golf value and we think we may have found one in the Barrie area. Venture Inn has put together a package that includes one night's accommodation, two rounds of golf and a meal voucher for a steak dinner. You'll get 18 holes of golf in on day one at the Springwater Golf Course and another 18 holes at Trehaven the following day. The cost is $89.00 plus tax and is based on double occupancy. For information or reservations, call the Venture Inn at 1-888-483-6887.

Planning a tournament, big or small, contact the golf page via e-mail (golf@halhinet.on.ca) or by regular mail in care of The Times, Box 97, Minden, Ontario, K0M 2K0.

YBC bowlers collect 677 pounds of cans

Youth Bowling Council

Minden's youth bowlers from County Bowling Centre took on crushing pop cans for their fund-raiser. Since October, 677 pounds of cans have been brought to the recycling centre. In return, YBC has earned money for tournaments, bowling shirts and the year end party.

With the funds raised from Nevada tickets and crushing cans, each YBC bowler participates in every tournament, receives trophies and bowls in the program for less than $180 for the 35 week program.

Pop cans may be dropped off at County Bowling Centre throughout the week. A bin has been provided for collection at the back of the building.

YBC bowlers would like to thank the following for this opportunity to raise money for their program:

All league bowlers, Mr. D's Donuts, Rick Harding, the Dominion Hotel, the Minden Curling Club, and the Minden Community Centre.

Thank you for your support and all your pop cans. Please keep the cans coming -- and out of our landfills.

creel census in March as well as the monitoring of walleye spawning areas. High school students observed walleye movements in the Drag River at Haliburton during the spawning run and mapped the areas that are being used as spawning beds and determined the areas that are in need of rehabilitation. They also monitored water flow and temperatures.

At the same time, HHOA volunteers, working in teams, tried to locate spawning shoals in some of the lakes in the Kashagawigamog chain.

It appears the walleye spawning bed rehabilitation projects done by the HHOA and the High School over the past two years have been successful.

"We're sitting on a gold mine here," Kennedy said, referring to the walleye population. He added that it was not unusual to see 400-500 fish per night on some of the spawning beds.

The information that was gathered during the Walleye Watch will help determine what can be done to enhance that fishery.

Lands for Life

Those who attended the spring meeting were encouraged to respond to the Lands for Life questionnaire. Association Vice-President Larry Hewitt noted that part of the original mandate of the Lands for Life process was to create and enhance hunting and fishing opportunities. He says the process got off track, giving those opportunities less importance. Hewitt also said the stakeholders such as miners, loggers and other resource users were co-operating in the process in an effort to ensure an equitable multi-use plan.

Shooting event

The shooting range at the Frost Centre will be the site of a shooting event this summer, probably in August. HHOA Director Paul Robinson is organizing the event, which may include rimfire target shooting, skeet shooting and a sight-in for centrefire rifles.

Area Supervisor introduced

Peter Waring, the new Area Supervisor at the Minden office of the MNR was introduced. Waring worked at the MNR head office in Toronto before deciding he liked working in the field better than the "ivory tower" in the big city.

"I worked for 23 years in fish and wildlife and I missed working in the field," he said.

During his MNR career, he was an assessment biologist for Lake Simcoe and he has worked in Kenora, where he studied and helped implement size limit management.

He views working in this area as a welcome challenge.

"When you live on the doorstep of a large population, you have to be really creative," Waring said.

With the "significant changes in staff numbers" at the MNR, Waring said partnerships with organizations like the HHOA are essential to the proper management of resources. The ministry used to have the human resources to do studies, but with the cut-backs, it will rely heavily on volunteers from stakeholders such as the HHOA membership.

He said that there is a "silver lining." With the hands-on involvement, comes a voice in the management policies which are adopted.

"We will do what we can to support the HHOA," Waring said. Partnerships such as this are very important. You are already doing some fantastic things."

50/50 draw

The HHOA 50/50 draw was held at the end of the spring meeting. The lucky ticket was purchased at Outdoors Plus in Haliburton by Dan MacMillan of Haliburton. He collected just under $1,000.

LUCK OF THE DRAW: Bruce Sawyer, Chairman of the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association Fund-Raising Committee, left, presents a cheque to Dan MacMillan of Haliburton while Dan's son Connor looks on. MacMillan was the winner of the Outdoors Association's 50/50 draw. He is almost $1,000 richer as a result of the win. The ticket was drawn at the HHOA annual Spring Meeting April 26 at the West Guilford Community Centre.

Juniors take house title

by Maurice Boyd

The County Bowling Centre crowned its "Team House Champion" on Sunday, April 26.

Ten teams, winners of their respective leagues, bowled a pins over average, three game tournament. For the fourth consecutive year, a YBC (Youth Bowling Council) team won the House Championship and the members will have their names engraved on the championship trophy.

The winning team, known as Five Alive, consisted of Kyle Burley, Alan Clement, Ryan Cole, Nikki Fomenko and Matt Reinwald. These youngsters bowled an outstanding 216 over their team average for three games.

Another YBC team, called "Party of Five", placed second with plus 188. The team members are Trevor Clement, Lesley Cox, Robert Cox, Andy Fox and Matt Reinwald. Robert Cox set a new YBC Triple House Record with a three-game total of 392. He also tied his own House Record for a single game, which is 168.

Third place went to the Thursday Night Mixed League team, the "Beer Frame." That team includes Dan Chumbley, Aaron Hie, Doug Reinwald, Dan Rivard, Joan Rivard and Sheila Woodcroft. They scored plus 157.

It was a great day of bowling by everyone who participated. The 5 Pin Bowlers' Association congratulates the winners and thanks everyone for taking part in this proprietors' annual event.

The draw for the "pins-over-average pool" was made in the afternoon. Mitzi Alzner, a bowler with the Thursday Seniors League, was the winner. She received $250. Congratulations Mitzi.

All about Moms

Sunday is Mother's Day, the annual celebration to help us remember the important role Mothers play in our lives. Donna Purdy provided us with this poem written by a Mom many years ago that captures some of the sentiment of this special day.

From where I stand now looking back
So many things I see
I could have done to help my Mom
Who did so much for me.
None of them cost a penny,
Just a bit of thought,
But thoughtful deeds mean so much more
Than anything which is bought.
There's all those dirty clothes I left Here, there and everywhere
I could have put them in the box
So conveniently placed there.
After all, Mom washed and dried
And yes, ironed most of them too,
She did everything but wear those clothes
But did I say "Thanks"? Do you?
If I had just wiped off my shoes,

Another time or two,
Those shiny floors would have stayed that way
A whole lot longer too.
Those things that I had noticed had fallen
From where they should have been--
Did I pick them up and replace them?
No, I stepped over them as though unseen.
Those dishes I used for my snack before bed
I could have rinsed at the sink,
But I just carelessly left them there
For Mom to collect instead.
She picked up the glass with the dried milk ring
(And the pop bottle over there).
It was harder to wash now that it had set
But I wasn't around to care.
I was reading my books or out with my friends
Not thinking of loss or gain,
'Til Mom had another meal ready for me
And the house was tidied and clean.
She had put back the chair or stool I'd used
To get something up high on the shelf

Jessica, (left), 6, and her sister Ashley, 3, wanted to do something special for mom Cassaundra Barnhart, on Mother's Day, so they picked her a beautiful bouquet of "flowers." Unfortunately mom has to work on Mother's Day, but she'll be receiving a big brunch and some more flowers.

Now I think how easy it t'would have been
For me to replace it myself.
The bathtub ring was all gone too
I'd laugh when I saw it there Thought, "Oh my, I'm glad all that's off of me."
How would it get off the tub, did I care?
No, I'd hurried away grabbing my coat
Mom had hanging up for me.
Guess I'd left it thrown towards a chair
And my gloves, where could they be?
How often have I noticed
Her fatigue and times of need
For my thoughtfulness to show my love
By doing some simple deed.
It is easy for me to see all this now,
'Cause Mom is old and gray,
And I'm a mother of a family
So I'm reminded of things every day.
But the joys I get from being Mom
Well surpass the work I do
So I'll pray for them and work for them
(And for their father too!)
Some day I'm sure they too will look back
And think as I'm thinking
now,
The Lord makes mothers
special,
And I'm glad that He knows how.
So Mom, though you've always been special
I'm telling you today,
I understand just how special you are
Now in my own special way.

Julie Chadwick and son Ryan Hogg, age five, were out smelling the flowers in preparation for Mother's Day. They had no special plans, but were sure it would turn out to be a great day as always.

HHSS enviro-team advances to provincials

by Kristi van Kessel

Three teams from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School competed in Envirothon '98 at the Leslie M. Frost Natural Resource Centre in Dorset last week, and came home with some impressive results.

The teams were comprised of grades 10 to OAC students who have been studying topics such as forestry, wildlife, soils, aquatics, and watersheds in preparation for this competition.

Stations were located around the centre where students were given 25 minutes to solve an environmental problem. The problems could require a short answer, task questions or problem solving, and the students had to brainstorm and come up with the best solution.

Each team member specialized in a particular scientific area, however the solutions to the problems usually required expertise from a variety of the disciplines.

Over 120 students from high schools throughout Ontario participated in 24 teams. At the end of the two day event, the top three teams advanced to the Provincial Championships to be held at the Frost Centre on May 13 and 14. The HHSS team of OAC students finished second, advancing to the provincial finals.

Second place OAC team from HHSS examined a deer's leg as part of a wildlife workshop at the Envirothon. The team will take part May 13 and 14, in the Provincial competition: at the Leslie M. Frost Natural Resource Centre. Winners from that event advance to the International competition in Michigan. Team members include, from the left, Nick Fawcett, Kristin Schakelaar, Rachel Levis, Shaemus Donnery and Matt Heffer.

The winners from that event will represent Ontario at the five-day International Envirothon competition in East Lansing, Michigan from July 27 - August 1.

"This is our third year here, and we have been very successful," said Derek Little, team teacher and evaluator for Envirothon. "The students have been meeting three times a week, at lunch hours, for eight weeks, in preparation." Some of the veteran team members have been teaching the junior members in preparation for envirothon. Little feels there have been many benefits from a program like Envirothon. "There is a real cohesiveness between the students at all levels."

The Minden Stewardship Council funds the team's trips to Envirothon, much to the delight of team members. "Irena Durling is the head of the council and we are so thankful. They have just been fantastic," said Little. This year's winning team placed third in the provincials last year and are hoping to do even better this time around.

Hodgson announces new expenditure on LTC beds

Victoria-Haliburton and Northumberland will receive 503 new long-term care beds and up to $26.6 million in funding for community-based services over the next eight years, Chris Hodgson, MPP for Victoria-Haliburton announced last week on behalf of Health Minister Elizabeth Witmer.

"This major expansion underlines the government's continuing commitment to the people of Victoria-Haliburton. It also shows we have a plan to create a co-ordinated comprehensive health system that provides people with the services they need in their own communities," Hodgson said.

On Wednesday, Minister Witmer announced a $1.2 billion expansion of long-term care services. This historic investment - the first announcement of new long-term care beds since 1988 - will add 20,000 beds to nursing homes and homes for the aged across the province by 2006. It also expands community services such as in-home nursing, visiting nurses and therapists, Meals on Wheels and seniors' day programs.

There will be improved access to community based services for 100,000 Ontarians. "We are taking the necessary steps to build a health system that will meet the current and future needs of our growing and aging population, and ensure that all Ontarians have access to the highest standard of long-term care," Hodgson said. "Our investment will directly benefit families, the elderly, the disabled, and their caregivers by providing additional beds, more services, more funding, more health care professionals and new or renovated facilities in Victoria-Haliburton and Northumberland," Minister Witmer said.

This largest-ever expansion of health care services will create 27,500 new jobs in the Ontario system, including about 7,900 positions for registered nurses and registered practical nurses. In addition, the equivalent of 175 new nursing homes and homes for the aged will be built and more than 100 older homes will be rebuilt according to new design standards, creating 42,500 construction jobs. "With our plan, this government will provide the health services we need, not just for today, but for the 21st century," Hodgson said.

Measure for measure

With 2740 small steps, four Archie Stouffer students made one great big leap to help blaze the path for Mindens Sneaker Day on May 22. Sneaker Day Committee Members, Morris Duff and Ray Nobles enlisted the help of Heather Kennedy, Gavin Hicks, Kelly Mercer and Jessica Mann to measure the distance of the Sneaker Day route. Equipped with their trundle wheel, the grade four students measured the route to discover the course is 2740 metres long or about 2.75 kilometres. The route runs from the gazebo by the Main Street Bridge, along Bobcaygeon Road, to the path around the ball diamond, through the woods to Beaver Creek. In the home stretch, the path will take a slightly different route to the arena parking lot, the north trail to the museum around the historical buildings and back to the gazebo. Sneaker Day participants will be split into two groups on May 30, one group walking at 11 a.m. and the rest over noon hour until about 1:30 p.m.

OPP area-wide search continues

The Coboconk/Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police is asking for the public's help in the search for a missing name for the OPP's new Minden headquarters.

The detachment was last seen as it closed the OPP's old office on April 6, heading north on Highway 35 to its new location at the Ministry of Natural Resources building. The police are seeking the advice of the public on a proper name for the detachment and are holding a contest to help with the search effort.

Anyone with information or suggestions is asked to contact the Ontario Provincial Police at P.O. Box 58, Minden, Ontario, K0M 2K0. All entries should be entered no later than May 15, at which time the search will be called off.

MDS helps hospital fund with cook books and garage sale

Transportation committee ready to begin program

The Provincial Government's Community Transportation Action Program (CTAP) office has approved funding for the demonstration of community transportation in the Haliburton Highlands.

Newly acquired funding will assist in developing a marketing campaign, a central phone number and coordination centre, and for the incorporation of a Haliburton Highlands Transportation (HHT) Steering Committee. Funding for a shuttle bus service may also be available, but is dependent upon successful demonstration of the need for such a service.

The Haliburton Highlands Transportation Steering Committee is a local steering committee with participants from a number of organizations, groups and volunteers including: Haliburton County Home Support Services, County of Haliburton, Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board, Haliburton County Board of Education, Northernways Transit, Haliburton County Association for Community Living, and consumers. Assisting the Committee is staff from the consulting firm IBI Group.

Over the past nine months the Committee has completed an inventory of existing transportation needs and resources, and has identified some solutions and costs to provide a coordinated, accessible and affordable system of transportation. These solutions were presented to the CTAP office, and funding was recently approved for a demonstration of these solutions.

Solutions approved and to be funded by the CTAP office include:

- a transportation information/trip request hotline
- a marketing campaign (with assistance from the Entrepreneurism class at the High School)

- computer enhancements
- the incorporation of the Steering Committee and the introduction of a transportation mobility manager to be staffed from the lead agency.

Haliburton County Home Support Services has agreed in principle to be the lead agency and to house the Haliburton Highlands Transportation Coordination Centre, where transportation information and coordination of trip requests for residents in the Haliburton Highlands area will be provided. "This coordination centre will provide transportation information, and will match customers and drivers. Once the service is up and running, it is our intention that all residents will be able to use the service," according to Les Shepherd, Chair of the Haliburton Highlands Transportation Committee.

It is the intention of the Committee to have community transportation information brochures (developed by the High School class) and a community transportation information/coordination phone number available before summer. It is also expected that some residents will soon be asked about their potential use of a regularly scheduled bus service offered once or twice a week. If you have any comments or questions, or would like more information, please contact Les Shepherd at 286-1333

Board looking at logos

First came the name.
Now comes the logo.

The Acting Director of Education for the Trillium Lakelands District School Board, Evelyn Brown, enlisted the help of trustees and the public to help choose the finalists for the school board's logo contest.

Dozens of entries for the contest were collected by the school board from Victoria and Haliburton Counties and Muskoka District. Each entry was posted in the board room at the April 28 regular board meeting for viewing. Brown invited all trustees and members of the public and the press to vote on their favorite logos by placing stickers on the various entries. The top five entries with the most votes will be sent to Barrow Communications, a consulting firm to determine which of the five would make the most appropriate logo for the Trillium Lakelands District School Board.

Trillium Lakelands District School Board Trustees Linda Matthews (left) and Judy Saunders select their favorite logo designs at the school board meeting last week. Submissions were collected from students across the district. The top five submissions will be forwarded to a communications company to be designed into an appropriate logo.

Request for Proposals (RFP) for Long-Term Care Facility Beds in Haliburton, Northumberland and Victoria Counties.

200 Beds Project LTC98005

The Ontario government has announced a $1.2 billion expansion of Ontario's long-term care system. This initiative is the single biggest investment in the health system in Ontario's history, and includes the addition of 20,000 long-term care facility beds over the next 8 years in communities that need them the most. It represents a major step forward in building a health system that will meet the needs of all Ontarians today and in the future.

For the first phase of this initiative, proposals are invited to develop new long-term care facility beds in Haliburton, Northumberland and Victoria Counties. Proposals must be submitted using a standard proposal form. This form, written instructions and related information can be obtained, beginning May 4, 1998 either by calling (416) 327-0792, or visiting the Ministry of Health Tender Office at:

99 Adesso Drive, Concord, Ontario L4K 3C7

Proposals submitted under this RFP must be received on or before July 31, 1998, 12 noon, at the Tender Office address.

Only those who have requested proposal information, and have pre-registered, will be admitted to a local bidders' meeting to be held on May 21, 1998. Location and timing details will be provided with the proposal package.

At the bidders' meeting, Ministry staff will make a presentation, and answer questions about the proposal process.

Fishing show host fined for angling violations

The Minden office of the Ministry of Natural Resources has cast charges on television host Henry Waszczuk. The co-host of the TSN program Canadian Sport Fishing pleaded guilty to the charge of angling off-season on Trounce lake, north of Kinmount.

Waszczuk was charged after the Ministry of Natural Resources Minden and Guelph offices received complaints about his fishing practices. During the investigation, several videotapes were seized which showed Waszczuk fishing for bass on Trounce Lake on June 16, 1995 although the bass season did not open until June 24 of that year. In early spring the adult bass are aggressive, as they are protecting their nests. If the adults are caught at this time, the fry are susceptible to attack from predators, lowering the bass population dramatically.

Waszczuk, a former centre for the Hamilton Tigercats, was in the news earlier this year, with his co-host Italo Labignan as the MNR filed eight charges against them after an incident on the Trent river in November of 1995. The duo was charged with hooking whitefish in a part of the body other than the mouth, failing to release the fish and being in possession of off-season lake trout.

Waszczuk appeared in court in Peterborough on April 16 and was fined $800.

Sessions will expand knowledge of arthritis and related diseases

The Arthritis Society would like Haliburton County residents to bone up on their knowledge of arthritis in a series of education sessions. The sessions are designed to enlighten Rheumatoid Arthritis and Osteoarthritis sufferers about their illness as well as teach methods of improving their quality of life.

The sessions, which are to be held at the Staunworth Non-profit housing building in Minden, are being coordinated by Physiotherapist Barbara Rimmer of the Arthritis Society. Rimmer hopes that the program will educate those who live with arthritis. "The main goal is to teach people how to manage the disability," said Rimmer. "The 'unknown' invariably causes more pain than the known."

Taking Charge of your Arthritis is a pilot project in Haliburton County, although it has been held in Peterborough and Victoria Counties. If this project is successful, Rimmer hopes to expand the program to Haliburton Village and the eastern regions of the county.

Arthritis is essentially the inflammation of a joint or joints in the body. It comes in many forms and some related disorders include Gout, Juvenile Arthritis and Fibromyalgia. Over 1.4 million Canadians endure some type of arthritic pain, including one in ten suffering from Osteoarthritis and one in one hundred suffering from Rheumatoid Arthritis. It affects over half of Canadians over the age of 65, but it is not just a disease of the elderly.

The program will cover several topics related to Rheumatoid Arthritis and Osteoarthritis including, exercises, proper health care and mobility aids and adaptation devices which improve the quality of life for those who suffer from arthritis.

To take part in Taking Charge of Your Arthritis, sufferers must have a screening performed by a Consultation and Therapy Services professional to assess whether they qualify. To pre-register, individuals must contact Barbara Rimmer at the Arthritis Society in Peterborough at 705-742-7191.

The Rheumatoid Arthritis sessions run for six weeks from May 21 to June 25 at a cost of $35. The Osteoarthritis sessions run for four weeks from May 28 to June 18 at a cost of $25. All sessions will take place at Staunworth Non-profit Housing.

Haliburton ACW hosts tea party

Hello everyone. Good to talk with you again. We have lots of news to pass on.

First of all, on Thursday, April 23, we had a lovely tea party, thanks to the Haliburton ACW. We do love our goodies and the many groups that host our weekly tea parties always delight us with many varied treats. That evening, some of the staff attended a Rolling Stone concert. They reported a wonderful time was had by all.

The following morning some of us participated in our Breakfast Book Club where we enjoyed a relaxing breakfast and good conversation. In the afternoon we were pleased to have the Grandfathers here for our happy hour. We've been told that they are known as the Grandfathers four plus one. However, two were missing, does that mean they were the Grandfathers three that afternoon? No matter how many, we always love their music.

On Saturday, we had the opportunity to watch "Anne of Green Gables." Such a delightful story.

Saturday was a red letter day as Walter and Vera Stevens celebrated the birth of their fifth Great Grandchild, a girl, Madison Nicole. Congratulations to you both on this happy event.

Sunday afternoon, we were entertained by the Haliburton County Children's Choir. This group consists of children eight years and up and represents many areas of the county. The children were delightful and gave us a terrific performance. The auditorium was packed, not a spare seat to be found. They were wonderfully conducted and accompanied by piano, guitar and flute. This was their last performance until fall. We had a great time and afterward shared ice cream with them. Our many thanks to all involved.

Our Hyland Rover whisked us through some countryside Monday afternoon. The "green" is certainly putting in an appearance now.

Welcome back Bob. Good to have you with us again. Chapel on Tuesday, 28th, was held with Louise Leonard. In the afternoon, two car loads attended the funeral of Nora Groves. Nora will be greatly missed. She was involved with many things here; crafts, flowers, helping with tea party, etc. Our sympathy to her family and friends. We share in your loss.

We also extend our sympathy to the Pettingers' in their bereavement. Hope you join us again Ed, we miss you.

April 29th, we had fun participating in a quiz. Sure helps to keep the mind active. And in the evening, Bingo was enjoyed by many.

We extend a warm welcome to our newest resident, Mrs. Edith Russell from Halls Lake area. We have found out she is a whiz at euchre. Also, we welcomed Douglas Adamson who is here for vacation care.

Today, last day of April, our tea party today was hosted by Stanhope Seniors. Thank you ladies.

We send belated birthday wishes to Eleanor Pye who celebrated April 28th and to Mary McCallum who celebrated May 3rd.

Birthdays to come: Harold Sawyer - May 5th and Lucile Clarke - May 8th. Happy birthday to you both.

Before we sign off we want to send our best wishes to Barbara, our volunteer who has run our "Quiet Time" programme, for a long time. We have enjoyed our time with you. We realize the important plans you have over the next few months, but look forward to having you join us once again. We therefore extend a warm welcome to Donna who has graciously agreed to carry on this programme in the interim. We very much appreciated this gesture and look forward to many "Quiet Times" with you.

That's it! Talk with you next week.

Around the County Town

by Nora Snyder (call 286-4425)

It's May!!! It is such a long wait for this time of year to come and it is finally here. My telephone is ringing from people wanting to make reservations for the summer. Some are looking for a place for the long weekend coming up. Lots of inquiries!! The work on the house is done and I am very pleased. Ready to go!! I've noticed a lot of trucks around town full of tree branches and general garbage for the dump. It looks like we are all busy cleaning up. If the frost wasn't so heavy overnight it would be tempting to be planting too. That time will come soon enough. The season is almost upon us!!

I would like to apologize to Helen Brown, as somehow I named her "Crawford" instead of Brown when I was expressing my condolences to her and her family on the passing of her mother. Luckily Helen knew I meant her. Coincidentally, shortly after I had learned a mistake had been made, Helen appeared on my doorstep, delivering a book I had expressed an interest in reading. Therefore a private and public apology was possible. I was happy to learn first hand that Helen is fine as is her whole family.

Last week I announced in this column that the preliminary lists for the Haliburton County Fair were ready and available at Stedman's and County Fabric in Minden. That information is correct but the Fair Board would also like to announce that the lists are also available at Country Magic in Minden and Marty's and Stedman's in Haliburton.

The Royal Canadian Legion, Minden, Branch 636 euchre results from April 23: Jean Scadden won most lone hands for the women and Roy McDonald won for the men. High score - women went to Marion; men to Carol Hill. Low woman and man were Helen Lee and Ellen Holden. Other prizes were won by Ann Baker, May Bradbury, D. Donelto, Helen Skelding and Sherrin Brown.

The Kinmount United Church UCW. is holding a Hot/Cold Buffet on Saturday, May 16, between 4:30 and 7:00 p.m. The buffet will be held at the Kin-mount Legion Hall. Adult admission is $10; children under 10, $4; pre-schoolers are free. Sounds like a great way to get supper on the long weekend!!

Senior's Bid Euchre at the Minden Legion on April 28 had the following lucky winners: the high scorers were Jack Chilton, Shirley Elcome and Verna McDonald. Helen Lee held the hidden score. There were five moon shots won by Shirley Elcome, Kay Smith, Milton Fletcher, Verna McDonald and Georgina Parkes. I don't seem to have been at home when Marg McAfee called in the scores the last few weeks. Thankfully we have answering machines!! Hopefully I'll catch you next week Marg.

As promised here are a couple more fitness facts to think about as we get ready for Sneaker Day on May 22. First, the number of Canadians who are active enough to achieve health-related benefits has almost doubled from 21% in 1981 to 37% by 1995. Canadians of all ages should accumulate 30 minutes or more of moderate intensity physical activity on most, preferably all, days of the week.

These fitness facts come from the Canadian Fitness and Lifestyle Research Institute. The report starts off by stating, "Any amount of physical activity is good, and more is better." Things to think about as we head into the time of year when it is easier and more appealing to get ourselves moving!!

The Gelert Community Centre had a good crowd out last week which must have resulted in a good time too. Joyce Schellenberg won lone hands. Mildred St. Thomas was high woman; Kit Schroter was low woman. High and low men were Don Curry and Don Hicks. George Bartley won the 50/50 draw.

There were seven tables of bridge at the Stanhope Library last week. The room is small so things were a little crowded...so crowded in fact that both Ross Fletcher and Stan Hill were knocked off the podium!! Instead of those two in the top spots, there was Wynne Hansen in third place, Chris Stender and Dorothy Strype tied for second and Muriel McIntosh in first place. It was noted that Dorothy is over her snit and is back playing with a vengeance!! Also during the afternoon a small slam was bid and made by Helen Rice and Muriel McIntosh. Good going!!!

Also from Stanhope, but on April 22, the bid euchre results. For the women: Pat Roussel was first with a score of 288; second was Muriel Harrington with 276; and third, Marion Hill with 268. First for the men was Jim Skinner with 343; second was Marcel Roussel with 296; and third, Norm Lee with 289. The hidden score was 161, won by Sharon Evans. Four moon shots were won by Alvin Cowen, Edith Burch, Jim Skinner and Pat Roussel. Another good day!!

I was sad to read the farewell announcement from "Rudy's" in Carnarvon. It was a great place to go. I always thought of it as a fun place and sent guests there all the time. I wish the new proprietor luck and hope he can keep alive the good feeling of the place. There seems to be a lot of change going on in our area. Let's hope this change will help us grow and revitalize so we can be the healthy and positive area we are meant to be!!! There's nothing more beautiful than Haliburton County!!!

Last Monday evening at Club 35

euchre, Bob McConnell won the 50/50 draw. Most lone hands was won by Dick Coffey; high woman was Loretta Lamb; high man, David Lamb; low woman, Rhoda Woolner; low man, Peter Farr; baloney, David Lamb. There are new names appearing lately among the more familiar ones in these winners. It must be the snowbirds returning to the summer nest!

The Friendship Club at St. Paul's had a smaller group last week but still a great deal of good fellowship. Lone hand was won by Pearl Cowan. Jeanne Sears was high man and Verna MacDonald won both high woman and the 50/50 draw. When talking to Katie Parker, she said that Brian's induction as Priest at St. Saviours in Toronto went very well. There was a large contingent there from Minden to lend Brian and Joan support in their new venture. I wish I could have been there too. They know I support them all the way!!

It is warm and sunny. I have some pansies to plant. My friend from Ohio writes me that they have had to mow their lawn four times already! We're not that far along but it is pretty good, nonetheless. It looks like we need rain and I hear it's in the forecast, so then the lawn mowers will be out!! Have a good week in this glorious spring!!

CARDS OF THANKS

We wish to say thank you to all the people in Minden who, over the 15 years we have lived here, gave us their friendship and many happy times together. We have enjoyed living here and will certainly remember all the good times. However, health problems dictate that we must be closer to specialists and treatment.

Our best wishes to all.

AT REST

CORLESS,
Alfred Benson (Ben)

Peacefully at the Haliburton Hospital on Tuesday, April 28, 1998, in his 86th year. Survived by his loving wife Dorothy Jean, daughter Susan Davies of Banff, Alberta, son John Corless of Peterborough, Ontario and sister Dorothy Breaky of Zurich, Ontario. Ben was a Canadian Armed Forces Veteran who served two years overseas. He was an employee with the Bank of Montreal for 44 years before retiring in the Minden area. His many friends, young and old, will always remember his refreshing sense of humour. Following cremation, a private burial will occur at Zion United Church Cemetery, Carnarvon. The family would like to thank Dr. Heyes and the staff of the Haliburton Hospital for their wonderful care. Donations to the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation, Box 569, Minden, Ontario K0M 2K0, would be appreciated. Arrangements entrusted to the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, Minden

Lost to us May 3, 1992
*A million times I've needed you
A million times I've cried,
If love could have saved you dear
You never would have died.
Things we feel most deeply
Are the hardest things to say,

If I could have one lifetime wish
One dream that could come true,
I'd pray to God with all my heart
For yesterday and you.
